

PROGRAM ON HUMANITARIAN POLICY
AND CONFLICT RESEARCH
HARVARD UNIVERSITY

September 14, 2009

Dear Elizabeth Anne Laverty,

On behalf of the Program on Humanitarian Policy and Conflict Research, I would like to thank you for engaging in the HPCR distance learning research initiative.

Your participation and feedback contribute greatly to our research in the development of affordable online professional development models. In particular, the course evaluation serves to measure the effectiveness of the online course as a means of transferring knowledge within the humanitarian community on international humanitarian law.

Although this letter may not be construed as certification in international humanitarian law, it may serve as evidence that you participated in the online course and thereby contributed to the research initiative.

We very much hope that you will be able to pursue your interest in international humanitarian law and policy. We invite you to attend other events planned or announced on the IHL Forum as well as draw from the open resources on the IHL Research Initiative portal, also accessible from the IHL Forum. We invite you to share this platform with your colleagues and friends.

Sincerely,

Claude Bruderlein
Director
Program on Humanitarian Policy and Conflict Research

Program on Humanitarian Policy and Conflict Research
Harvard University
1033 Massachusetts Avenue, 4th floor, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138
Tel. (617) 384-7407, Fax (617) 384-5908, Email: hpcr@hsph.harvard.edu